

A close-up photograph of a white poinsettia flower. The flower is the central focus, with a cluster of green buds in the center. The petals are large, white, and have a slightly wavy, scalloped edge. The background is dark, making the white flower stand out. The text is overlaid on the upper portion of the image.

Genesis 18:03 And said, My Lord, if now I have found favour in thy sight, pass not away, I pray thee,
from thy servant: