Hosea 01:09 Then said God , Call his name Loammī: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God .
