

The background of the image is a dense thicket of autumn foliage. On the left side, there are bright green, needle-like branches of a cedar tree. The rest of the image is filled with numerous maple leaves in various shades of red, from light pink to deep crimson. The leaves are layered, creating a rich, textured appearance. The text is overlaid on this background in a white, serif font.

Micah 06:01 Hear ye now what the LORD saith; Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.