

Matthew 13:16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears,
for they hear.

A close-up photograph of a vibrant red rose with numerous water droplets on its petals, set against a background of green leaves. The rose is the central focus, with its petals layered and glistening with dew. The background consists of out-of-focus green foliage, creating a soft, natural setting.