

A photograph of a pond filled with lily pads. The lily pads are dark green with serrated edges and are scattered across the dark water. Two red lily buds are visible, one in the center and one to the right. The text is overlaid on the image in white, serif font.

Psalm 54:03 For strangers are risen up against me, and oppressors seek after my soul:
they have not set God before them.
Selah.