

A close-up photograph of a vibrant red rose, with its petals showing a gradient from deep red to a lighter pinkish-red. The rose is the central focus, with its intricate petal structure clearly visible. Overlaid on the rose is white text in a bold, serif font. The text is arranged in several lines, centered horizontally across the image. The background is dark and out of focus, making the rose and the white text stand out prominently.

Exodus 13:17 And it came to pass, when Pharaoh had let the people go, that God led them not through the way of the land of the Philistines, although that was near;
for God said, Lest peradventure the people repent when they see war, and they return to Egypt: