

The background of the image is a close-up photograph of several purple flowers, likely pansies or violas, with bright green leaves. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some showing distinct yellow and orange centers. The lighting is bright, creating strong highlights and shadows on the petals and leaves. The text is overlaid on the upper portion of the image in a white, serif font.

Psalm 35:07 For without cause have they hid for me their net in a pit, which without cause they have digged for my soul.