

1st Samuel 25:33 And blessed be thy advice, and blessed be thou, which hast kept me this day from coming to shed blood, and from avenging myself with mine own hand.

A close-up photograph of a hand holding a large, multi-petaled rose. The rose has a mix of yellow and pink petals, with some water droplets visible on its surface. The background is dark and out of focus, making the flower and hand the central focus of the image.
