

A close-up photograph of a tulip field. The background is filled with green leaves and several white tulips. In the center, a large, vibrant orange tulip with yellow and red variegation is in full bloom, facing the viewer. To its right, another orange tulip is partially visible, and below it, a white tulip is in bloom. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, serif font.

Exodus 22:05 If a man shall cause a field or vineyard to be eaten, and shall put in his beast, and shall feed in another man's field; of the best of his own field, and of the best of his own vineyard, shall he make restitution.
