

1st Corinthians 11:31 For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.

A close-up photograph of a vibrant pink rose with yellow stamens, set against a dark green background. The rose is the central focus, with its petals layered and slightly ruffled. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the petals and the bright yellow of the center. The background is blurred, showing more green foliage and a dark stem.