

A close-up photograph of a waterfall. Water is cascading over a dark, possibly black, metal or stone structure. The water is clear and bright, creating white foam and splashes as it falls into a pool of water below. In the background, there are green reeds and other vegetation, suggesting a natural or landscaped setting. The overall scene is bright and dynamic.

Jeremiah 03:05 Will he reserve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou hast spoken and done evil things as thou couldst.
