

A vibrant orange daisy flower is placed in a clear glass vase. The vase is positioned on a dark, wet rock surface, and water is cascading over it, creating a waterfall effect. The background is a blurred waterfall, and the overall scene is illuminated with soft, natural light. The text is overlaid on the upper left portion of the image.

Exodus 23:25 And ye shall serve the LORD your God, and he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and I will take sickness away from the midst of thee.
