

A close-up photograph of a dense field of flowers. The primary color is a bright, vibrant pink, with some flowers in shades of purple and blue. The flowers have a daisy-like structure with many thin petals radiating from a dark brown center. The background is filled with green leaves and stems, creating a lush, natural setting. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the petals and the greenery.

Psalms 38:14 Thus I was as a man that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs.