

Job 12:09 Who knoweth not in all these that the hand of the LORD
hath wrought this?

A large, gnarled tree with dense foliage, illuminated by a warm, golden light, possibly from the sun or moon, creating a dramatic silhouette effect. The tree's branches are thick and twisted, and the leaves are a mix of green and yellow, suggesting autumn. The background is a bright, hazy sky, and the overall mood is serene and majestic.
