

The background of the image is a close-up photograph of purple flowers, likely verbena, with green stems and leaves. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some fully open and others as buds. The lighting is bright, creating a vibrant and natural scene. The text is overlaid on this background in a white, serif font.

John 16:02 They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.