

An aerial photograph of a coastline. The water is a vibrant turquoise color, transitioning to a lighter, almost white hue near the shore. The beach is a wide, flat expanse of white sand. The land beyond the beach is dark and appears to be a dense forest or scrubland. The overall scene is bright and clear, suggesting a sunny day.

Phillipians 03:14 I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.