

A decorative garden waterfall with brown water and grey rocks. The water flows over several tiers of large, grey, rectangular stones. The water is a murky brown color, and there are many small bubbles and ripples. The rocks are wet and have some moss or algae on them. In the background, there are some green plants and small red and purple flowers. The overall scene is a peaceful garden feature.

Genesis 01:01 In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.