

A scenic view of a rocky riverbank. The foreground and middle ground are dominated by large, smooth, grey boulders of various sizes, some partially submerged in a small pool of dark water. The background shows a steep, rocky bank with more boulders and some sparse, dry vegetation. The lighting is soft, suggesting late afternoon or early morning. The overall tone is natural and serene.

Luke 07:05 For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue.