

Psalm 21:13 Be thou exalted,
LORD, in thine own strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

The background of the image is a sky filled with large, dark, and heavy clouds. There are several distinct patches of bright blue sky visible through the cloud cover, particularly in the lower right and center-right areas. The overall tone is dramatic and somewhat somber, with the white text providing a stark contrast against the darker parts of the sky.
